HEY-DAY AT HALIBURTON LAKE

Things were humming in the community of Haliburton Lake, about 150 miles northeast of Toronto, on the weekend of July 31st and August 1st and this photographer got caught up in the action. It was the occasion of the Haliburton Lake Cottagers' Association annual Fun-For-All which included everything from sail, power and canoe races to marathon swims, inner tube and float board races and tugs-of-war to a beauty contest and a C.B.F. Sanctioned Sportscraft Regatta.

What the canoe races lacked in professionalism, the contestants amply made up with determination as can be seen from this shot of the start of the race.

The small fry had a ball in the inner tube event. It became a contest to see who could keep their head out of the water for the longest period while maintaining their position in the tube.

Mom and Dad in their Wayfarer give the kids in a Georgian 12.5 a few sailing tips before the race. The lesson was well learned as the kids whipped the pants off their parents in the race.

Ice cream, pop and hot dogs were the fare of the day and it kept the organizers hopping to equalize supply and demand.

A great assortment of sailcraft entered the sailing event. Some seen were Enterprises, Albacores, Sunfishes, Wayfarers, Petrels, Georgians and CL-16s.

Will the real Miss Haliburton Lake Cottagers' Association please step forward? And she did. The cute blonde on the right was duly crowned Queen of the Day.
